ORATORS WIN ONE; LOSE ONE

Two Games at Northampton Were Hotly Contested—First to Northampton, 5 to 2; Second, to Orators, 4 to 3.

(Springfield Union.)
Northampton, Aug. 3.—If Tony Pastor had not booted a pair of grounders the Links would have carried off both games of yesterday's double-header with Bridgeport. In the first game Warner worked like a veteran and gave O'Rourke's tallenders the wrong side of a 5 to 2 score. In the second Jack Hess had his untimely fumbles on diamond dusts that would ordinarily have been out, and two hits and a sacrifice fly followed were enough to give Bridgeport three runs in the ninth and the game. Relly, the New Britain pitcher, was extremely chary with the safe ones and all 'Hamp could do was to pick five scattered wallpops. The passes that the pitcher gave, however, were costly and gave the Links an early lead.

Up until the ninth Hess had allowed the Medfords to reach him for seven hits, one of them being a two-sack clout, but they came at scattered intervals and Jack should have hoisted a warning flag. In the afternoon's work had not Tony Pastor become an unlooked-for factor with his errors. Both clubs contributed some spectacular work at times in the first. Miller and Bannion forcing retirements on seemingly sure hits. Jimmy Burns' wild catch off Miller's bat caused a mild sensation.

Bridgeport's run in the first was started by Warner's four wide ones to Bannion, a fly to the plate by Hill giving the runner the middle sack, and Tony Pastor's slipup when Bridges threw to catch Bannion off second, sending him to the outfield.

Warner's wild heave allowed the tally. Warner passed Ladd and Miller, but Bunyan ended it by grounding to Burns.

Steinhaus's triple and Bannion's sacrifice fly furnished the second Orator tally in the eighth. Warner proved the victor's master for the intermediate stages and the closing section. Score:

SECOND GAME.

Bridgeport opened the second game when Hilt doubled into extreme left and scored on Ladd's single. From this point on not an Orator count could be shoved across until that fatal ninth. Miller, the first man up, then got on. The rest of Pastor's miff. Bunyan lifted into Walsh's hands, and Sweeney, O'Rourke's outlaw from the Atlantic league, forced Tony into another slipup and scored on Kocher's double brought Miller across, and McKenna, who battled for Relly, brought in Sweeney with his sacrifice fly to Walsh. Steinhaus then singled and Kocher passed through the turnstile.

McAndrews opened for 'Hamp at the start of the windup contest with a slap into center. Pastor lifted into Kocher's hands and Yale got on when Hilt fought Yale's grounder too hard. Walsh pointed one into left and McAndrews and Yale passed over the run counter. Walsh was retired at second and Bridges low drive to Hilt and Golden soared out into Steinhaus's hands.

The third and final Lark chalkings was accomplished by the Links as they doubled into right, stole third and came home on Kocher's wild peg to Miller to prevent the theft. Relly held the Links safe for this and a simple order of retirements was produced. Score:

LIVE BASE BALL TIPS

The Orators buckle with the Paper-makers in Holyoke to-day.

Elley Relly is again credited with a win. Four wins and no defeats is going good with a tail end team.

The Connecticut League made a remarkable record, yesterday, in that four of the six games played were won by the ninth inning, two of them by the sixth. The Links won the first game, the Orators the second, the Links the third, the Orators the fourth, the Links the fifth, and the Orators the sixth. The Links won the first game, the Orators the second, the Links the third, the Orators the fourth, the Links the fifth, and the Orators the sixth.

Freddie Gibbs finished the game for Relly yesterday, as McKenna was sent to bat for that player in the ninth session. This makes two games in which the Links have been relieved by team mates battling out the victory in the last session.

If McGraw could have gotten Magee and Foxen for Mike Donlin he could have congratulated himself as the David Harum of baseball. But the wires became crossed on the other end.

The Brooklyn club has purchased the release of Catcher "Tacks" Ewing from the Rochester team of the Eastern league. His record shows that he is a good man, and according to President Ebbets is the beginning of the foundation of a winning team in the City of Churches.

The New York Highlanders have sold Pitcher George McConnell to the Rochester Eastern league club, which team is now in need of pitchers to hold up their lead in the Eastern league race.

Jim O'Rourke, oldest player in any professional league, is in harness again for his Bridgeport team of the Connecticut State League. This is Jim's thirty-seventh consecutive season in the game. His long career with the New York and Buffalo teams is of the history of the national game. And now he is close to sixty. Think of it!—Boston American.

When the Eastern league season ends the New York Americans will take Pitcher Ford, Second Baseman Gardner and Shortstop Foster from the Jersey City club. These young players cannot be excelled in their respective positions by any of the minor leagues.

Yesterday was the first time in baseball history that all of the 16 clubs of both the American and National leagues simultaneously refrained from their sport. The New York State league also called off the games, while the Eastern league games in Rochester and Buffalo, and the American Association contest in Louisville, where the funeral was held were also called off.

Bescher of Cincinnati is the champion base stealer of the National league, to date having 34 pilfers to his credit in 54 games. Magee, the almost Giant, is second with 27 in 84 games.

Cobb has no opposition in the American league with 48 in 91 games.

John Arnold Heydler, the new president of the National league, has been its secretary since 1902. He was born in Lafargeville, N. Y., on July 10, 1859. He learned the printing trade in Rochester, and later went to Washington, where he was employed by the government. For three years Mr. Heydler was one of the substitute umpires of the National league. While sporting editor of a Washington paper he helped the American league gain a foothold in that city. He is universally popular with club owners, managers and players. He has also been editor of "Sporting Life."

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE

The surprise of the week was the case with which the A. & B. boys downed the Cranes.

A. & B. meets the other Crane team this coming Saturday, it looks like the fourth straight win for the Gun makers.

Those were two cracking good games at Newfield, when amateur teams can ring. That there will be a whole lot of dicker before the heavyweights get to maul each other, seems certain.

The first hitch has come. Jeffries, in posting his $5,000 declared he intended selling Thursday on the Geo. Washington of the Hamburg-American line for Germany on his way to Carlsbad where he is to take the "cure."

Johnston, in posting his $5,000 announced that he would be in New York Thursday to sign articles for the match and that articles must be signed before Jeffries goes to Europe.

As Johnston cannot arrive until Jeffries is on board his ship there is much speculation as to what stand the negro will take. Jeffries has announced that he will not fight.

Frank White has again developed stingingness. Holding the Singers down with three hits is no small feat.

The Regenary matter will continue to be harped upon by some sore heads, no matter what fair measures are used to smooth matters out. This talk of disinterested parties does more to hurt the organization than it does to advance it.

The fans saw a chance for the big deal of the Yost team being overcome after the A. & B. defeat, but with the A. & B. team's nearest rivals, there is nothing to now but the Yosts, though they may lose a few games which is almost impossible, considering the article of all this prod and the article that is served out in opposition to their offense.

It will be a grand fight for second place, with the Singers, A. & B. and both Crane teams as probabilities.

No. 1 Cranes were in a crippled condition Saturday without the services of Johnny Downey, Serge Vardon and other stars. Their three most valuable players, it was small wonder the Brassies won out over them.

Vacation days are depriving the Yosts of a number of players. It will be this way for the rest of the month, new faces appearing every Saturday, to fill in the gaps.

Both Crane teams meet again two weeks from Saturday. The West End plant have won both games so far, but by narrow margins, and as George W. Ellsworth No. 1 manager says, it was only through the decisions of the umpire. Raving is George's middle name.

It is stated that the Locomobile team, which are leading the Factory league are to make a bid for an entry into the industrial league next season, or are now ready to fill a gap, should any of the clubs take it into their heads to get out. The Locos could add a prize of $5,000 gives the race additional interest. It is now expected that the fleet will sail for Hampton Roads at four p.m. tomorrow.

Wireless messages giving the positions of the special armored cruiser squadron on the way from Europe made up of the North Carolina, Montana and New York, inform the fleet that the squadron will reach Boston harbor late this afternoon.

NEW HAVEN ROAD IN DANGER FROM BIG FOREST FIRES

(Special from United Press.)
North Falmouth, Mass., Aug. 3.—This village is nearly surrounded by forest fires and a change in the wind has started the largest of the fires directly toward the center of the village. At 9 a. m. the fire was raging less than a quarter of a mile from the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad station. Already nearly $9,000 damage has been done in this section of Cape Cod and it is feared the amount will be greatly increased unless rain comes soon.

Early today a strong northeast wind sprang up and the one fire which lasted all night south of the village was scattered until the flames nearly encircled the settlement. Every available citizen in the district, nearly 1,000 in all, are fighting the fire. The streets are filled with dense smoke and all business is suspended.

Jeff and Johnson Have Started on Long Chewing Match

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Aug. 3.—Sporting men in New York have now settled down to watch for the numerous interruptions that are certain to occur before Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson meet in the ring. That there will be a whole lot of dicker before the heavyweights get to maul each other, seems certain.
